SONG OF THE HEART.

BY JAMES STEPHENSON.

Why haunt me still where'er I go,
A sombre air and pensive thought,
While founts of joy for others flow,
And sorrow is by them forgot?
I mingle with the busy throng
Who drink the cup of pleasure dry,
The language hear of Flattery's tongue,
And catch the glance of Beauty's eye—
But yet am sad, I know not why.

I leave the noisy homes of men,
Alone with nature to commune—
Talk with the flow'rets of the glen,
Or listen to the wild bird's tune.
There, innocence primeval reigns,
With scenes that studied art defy,
But though no voice to me complains,
Comes silently and fills my eye,
The tear of grief—I know not why.

I feel that there are common ties
Which man to man forever bind,
And sacred human sympathies
Should be around the soul entwined.
Hope paints the future of my race,
And promises a fairer sky,
In each progressive change I trace
The germ of god-like destiny;
But yet am sad, I know not why.

Thus onward passes, day by day,
Whatever changes Time may bring;
It will not take the shade away,
And let my soul in gladness sing.
Even when I humbly kneel in prayer
To Him who rules the earth and sky,
And yield myself up to the care
Of mighty guardians from on high,
My heart is sad—I know not why.

A DISTINCTION AND DIFFERENCE.

Fred, idly strolling out one day,
Was told that Kate had passed that way,
And though somewhat a fop in taste,
His hair dishevel'd—stock untied,
His clothes thrown loosely on in haste,
With panting breath he reached her side;
Surprised, she gazed on Frederick's plight,
And justly angered at the sight,
Said, in a tone of jesting ire:
"I see you're running to a fire!"
"Well, no," he naively said, "but much the same,
I've just been hotly chasing up a flame!"

BEAUTIES OF HAM AND EGGS.

There's beauty in the frying pan,
When the fat is jumping high;
There's beauty in a dozen eggs
Dropped softly in to fry;
There's beauty in a slice of ham,
Westphalia, young and sweet;
And, when together they are fried,
They're beautiful to eat.

Morton, the editor of thh Nebraska News, thus describes a domestic row, and a subsequent reconciliation of which he was a witness:

"Coming down the Missouri near Beam lake, between Western and St. Joe, our boat was hailed by a woman on shore. The officers of the craft, with their usual gallantry, rounded to head up the stream, and stopped: the lady informed them that the "duds and cooking concerns" were all packed in a cabin hard by, ready for removal, and that it was her desire to take passage down the river. Immediately the duds were under way, and fast coming on deck, when a man plowing in an adjacent field was seen to drop his reins, and mount the horse and come charging and yelling towards the boat. The captain waited until he had arrived, and then puffing and blowing said:—

"Ann, where on earth are you going tew?"

Said she, "Joab, I allow to go whar I ain't to be cuffed, and cursed, and manled every day, by such a brute as you are.',

Said he in a very melancholy tone, "Ann, farewell."

Said she doubtfully—"Joab, if you'll treat me better, I'll stay and live with you until the breath is clean out of my body."

And Joab promised that he would, and that he hoped to be eternally dog-oned to thnnder if he wouldn't pay the captain for landing, and treat all around, if she would just stay, and so she stayed. And the last seen of this nearly separated couple, they were embracing each other on the bank of the "big muddy," surrounded by seven little free soil boys, whose shirt tails, like the banners of Macbeth, were hung up on the outer walls, and whose eyes were full of gum, dirt and wonder."

☞A man with a scolding wife moved into a swamp, where the dumb ague was prevalent. His wife was effectually cured.

Depressions of the Earth.

Surprise has been manifested, and inquiries have been made as to the cause of mountains; but the cause which produced the valleys or depressions of the earth is just as much a matter of wonder. Some suppose—indeed, it is a very general opinion—that all the lower parts of the earth's surface are covered with water, but this is not exactly so. Seas, lakes and rivers, are only lower than surrounding lands; but there are many inhabited portions of our globe which are much lower than some great seas and lakes. Thus the waters of Lake Erie are about two hundred feet higher than the rich cultivated plains surrounding Lake Ontario; but the latter lake is some feet lower than these plains, and is the receptacle of their drainage water. The most extensive and wonderful depression of the earth is in Asia. It is a vast region of about 18,000 leagues square; it is occupied, to be sure, mostly by the Caspian Sea, but it also contains populous cities, and extensive cultivated districts situated in a depression of three hundred and twenty feet below the level of the Black Sea.

It is an opinion pretty generally admitted by scientific men at the present day, that the mountains have been formed by the upheaving of their materials, and that they have issued from the bosom of the earth. The necessary consequence of a vast upheaval would be the depression of another portion of the earth. Asia abounds in lofty mountains, and the vast depression of the Caspian Sea and its adjacent plains is surrounded with great mountain chains; hence it is supposed that the elevation of these masses causen a consequent depression of the Caspidt valleys.

DESECRATION OF THE HOUSE WHERE BURNS WAS BORN.—The dust of Alexander might perhaps be found stopping a beer barrel, but the event is not likely if the dust were known to be Alexander's. He might come there by accident, but scarcely by intention. The worst of us have still some reverence for departed greatness. We do not put heroes in bungholes, knowing them to be heroes, and bungholes to be holes for bungs. Other bungs do as well, or in fact better, and heroes may have other and better uses. Scotland, however, is a convicted criminal in this respect, and she requires an improvement in her taste. She has a national idol—a Moloch that devours her children, and to this said Moloch she devotes the memory of her wise men and prophets, her hero warrior, and her bards. If she can found no other monument, she can found a "spirit shop," and pour libations of liquid fire down the throats of the living, out of honor to the illustrious dead. "In this house," says an inscription on a little cottage, not far from Ayr, "Robert Burns, the Ayrshire poet was born," and on the same cottage, at the other side of the open door, is inscribed the announcement in similar, though larger letters, that the said cottage is "licensed to sell spirits, porter and ale." What Goths or Vandals, we should like to know, licensed the birth-place of the poet for such a purpose? No wonder that srangers from other lands come to Scotland and brand her as the most drunken country in Europe—which unfortunately is not true—when we present to their amazement the Wallace Tower public house, and the cottage where Burns was born converted into a little mean, contemptible road-side drinking shop—into which no man or woman of taste would set a foot for fear of desecrating a cherished association. Magistrates who grant such licenses are the barbarians of Scotland—those who bring Scotland into disrepute, and defame her before the world.—Glasgow Commonwealth.

PUNCH ON PRINTERS.—How nice this being a printer! A public servant, and well nigh slaves of the devil! A good natured fellow, must always smile, bow to everybody must be killing polite on all occasions, especially to the ladies, must always be a dear, duck of a man, always witty, always dignified must never do anything that would not accord with the strictest sense of propriety of the most precious old maid, and must always be correct in everything that he does or says; is always expected to know the latest news, is styled muggins it he is not always posted, must of course please every body, and certainly is supposed to never be in need of the "one thing needful,' must work for nothing, board yourself, must trust every body, and is thought a great bore if he should present his bill, must be a ladder for all political aspirants to step into office, who very soon become independent, don't owe him anything, consider the printer at best a sorry dog, who cannot expect any better treatment than kicks and cuffs, and finally summing it up, he is expected to be "a man without a model and without a shadow."

PUTTING DOWN GAMBLING.—A judge thought he would indulge his propensity for play, and visited a faro bank. He played, and was very successful, as was his wont; he won all the money, and broke up the establishment. After he had pocketed his winnings, and was about retiring, he perceived several of the Grand Jury in the room, who had likewise been engaged in the game. Judge D——observed to them:

"Gentlemen of the Grand Jury, the law requires me to do all in my power to suppress the vice of gambling. I have charged the Grand Juries upon the subject time and again without any good effect. It was time for me to act, and see if I could not enforce the law. I have done so; and the most effectual way of doing it is to break the bank, which I have done to-night. I do not think these fellows will trouble the public for some time to come, and the law in me is vindicated. Gentlemen, I bid you good-night."

Eternity.

"Eternity has no gray hairs." The flowers fade, the heart withers, man grows old and dies; but time writes no wrinkles on the brow of eternity.

Eternity! Stupendous thought! The ever present, undecaying and undying, and endless chain, composing the life of God, and golden thread, entwining the destinies of the universe.

Earth has its beauties, but she shrouds them for the grave; its honors, they are but the sunshine of an hour; its palaces, they are but as the gilded sepulchre; its possessions, they are the toys of changing fortune; its pleasures, they are but bursting bubbles. Not so in the untried bourne.

In the dwelling of the Almighty can come no foot-steps of decay. Its day will know no darkness; eternal pleasure forbids the approach of night. Its fountains will never fail—they are fresh from the eternal throne; its glory will never wane, for there is the ever present God. Its harmonies will never cease—exhaustless love supplies the song.

SOUTHERN HUMOR.—The following yarn is told on a certain Dr. Thompson, of Atlanta, said to be a generous, goood man, and a tip-top landlord and wit:

A traveler called very late for breakfast, and the meal was very hurriedly prepared. Thompson, feeling that the "feed" was not quite up to the mark, made all sort of apologies all around the eater, who worked on in silence, never raising his head above the affirmative influence of his fork, or by any act acknowledging even the presence of mine host. This sulky demeanor rather "flea'd" the Doctor, who, changing the range of his battery, struck his thumbs in his vest arm holes, expanded his chest by robbing the room of half its air, and said: "Now Mister, dod durn me, if I hain't made all the apology necessary, an' more too, considering the breakfast and who gets it, and now I have seen dirtier, worse cooked, worse tasted, worse looking, and a h—l of a sight smaller breakfast than this is, several times."

The weary, hungry one meekly laid down his tools, swallowed the bite in transitu, placed the palms of his hands together, and modesty looking up at the vexed and fuming landlord, shot him dead with the following words:

"Is—what—you—say—true?"

"Yes sir," came with a vindictive promptness.

"Well, then, I'll be d—d, hoss, if you hain't out traveled me!"

There was posted in the front door, a small nigg r, especially to tell the wayfaring man "dat he did't owe nullin dar, sartin sure."

After he was fairly under way. Thompson was observed careening from an attic window, taking a prolonged rear view of the horse and his rider, with a four foot telescope. It has been intimated that the Doctor hesitated many seconds between the choice of the glass and a double-barreled shot-gun.

WESTERN FASHION.—This girl was not as green as she might have been. She liked the new fashion the eastern man had introduced.

As a weary traveler was wending his way through the mud, out in a far west region of the country, he discovered a young maiden standing in the door of a small log-house. He rode up in front of the house and asked the maiden for a drink of water; he drank it, and, she being the first woman he had seen for several days, offered her a "dime for a kiss."

The young maiden accepted the offer, and received both the kiss and the dime.

The traveler was about to resume his journey, but the maiden never before having seen a dime, asked:

"What am I to do with the dime?"

"You may use it any way you wish?" he replied, "it is yours."

"That being the case," she replied, "I'll give back the dime and take another kiss."

SCENE ON THE OHIO.—Our boat stopped to take in wood. On the shore, amongst a crowd, was a remarkably stupid looking fellow, with his hands in his pockets, and his under lip hanging down. A dandy, ripe for a scrape, tipped nods and winks all about, saying: "Now I'll have some fun. I'll frighten the green horn." He jumped ashore with a drawn bowie knife, and brandishing it in the face of the "green 'un," exclaimed—"Now I'll punish you, I have been looking for you a week!" The fellow stared stupid at the assailant. He evidently had not sense enough to be scared—but as the bowie knife came near to his face, one of his huge fists suddenly vacated his pocket, and fell hard and heavy between the dandy's eyes, and the poor fellow was flounder.ng in the Ohio! Greeny jumped on board our boat, put his hands in his pockets, and looked around—"May be," said he, "there's somebody else here that's been looking for me a week?"

A DEAD SURE THING.—The Cincinnati Commercial tells a story about two ladies traveling from St. Louis to Cincinnati, one of whom was asked by a fellow traveler, with whom a conversation had opened, if she was married.

"I was married," sighed the bloooming dame, "but alas! I know not if my husband be dead or alive. I heard that he was accidentally killed in Pittsburg, a few weeks ago, and I am now going there to ascertain whether the report be true or false."

"Well, I've got a dead sure thing on my husband," remarked the other lady, "for I saw him buried six weeks ago."

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 7th

CAMP MEETING.—The Camp Meeting near Visalia, will commence September 17th. Revs. E. B. Lockley, J. S. L. Wood and J. G. Johnson, will be in attendance with the undersigned.

M. CLAMPIT,
R. W. BIGHAM,

Mariposa, August 17, 1858.

Preaching at Whitlock's.—Rev. E. B. LOCKLEY will preach at Whitlock's Creek on Thursday evening next, September 9th, at the store of Capt. McKeown. Service will commence at 7 o'clock.

THE RESULT.

We are pleased to announce the re-election of Samuel A. Merritt to the Senate by a majority which not only endorses his legislative course and shows the estimation in which the people hold him, but especially shows that though the people may not look with much favor on Conventions, they yet will not countenance one who failing to receive a majority in Convention, will therefore run independent, regardless of party usage.

Nicholas Cleary, is elected for District Judge. Mr. C. was the regular Democratic candidate.

Mr. Gregory, regular Democratic candidate for Assembly, is elected by a large majority.

Mr. Howard, regular Democrat nominee for the Legislature, is defeated by Mr. Crenshaw, Independent.

One of the chief causes which led to Howard's defeat, was the effort made by Crenshaw's friends; and also by some of the supporters of Mr. Giltner, (another independent) who used all their power to diminish Howard's vote; believing that by so doing Crenshaw or Giltner might be run in. The consequence was, that though some of their friends might vote for Gregory, none voted for Howard, believing that he was the man they must defeat to elect their own.

However, in the main, the regular Democrats have achieved a noble victory, and naturally feel proud of the defeat of the miserable combination of disaffected Democrats, Republicans and Know Nothings, who have spared no means to succeed; but who have been taught at least, a good lesson by the recent contest.

THE STATE ELECTION.

There was never better cause for the Democracy of California to rejoice, than exists now; for the glorious victory just achieved over the combined elements of an unscrupulous and heterogenous opposition.—Standing upon a platform of principles which they conceive to be true and right, and boldly contending for their triumph, the Democracy have at last borne down a party, or a combination of isms, and have achieved as great a victory as could be desired.

The Democratic State ticket is elected by a large majority, and both Houses of Legislature have a majority of Democratic members.

Every true Democrat, every man who really desires to see this State prosper, and wishes for sectionalism to be crushed out, must feel like rejoicing over the defeat of the mixed up mass of the fag ends of everything political, which they have just met with. Let us rejoice, but with a sincere feeling; and let our confidence in the correctness of our principles be strengthened by this unmistakable decision of the people in their favor.

ELECTION DAY.

This day, with us, was remarkably quiet. There was very little liquor drank, and therefore little noise and few fights. But little effort at biasing or influencing votes was perceptible; and a stranger would have seen little to indicate that an election was going on. Men went to the polls and voted, and then returned to their business. All was quiet and harmonious—much more so than we have ever witnessed here before. All this goes to show that we are improving gradually, and that there is a more universal and independent expression of opinion than hereto fore. At the close of the day, and when the result of the election was known, the successful party was quiet and still, as were the defeated. Every one seemed to have previously calculated precisely as things turned out. Everybody "knew 'twould be so," of course.

SUPERVISORS.

We are glad to state that Hugh Dimond, who has so faithfully and well served us as Supervisor the last year, has been re-elected.

Francis Ross is elected from the Hornitos District, and S. A. Scott from the Coulterville District.

Young Thieves.—Five young lads were arraigned before Judge Coon, in San Francisco, for stealing empty bottles, valued at $24. On discharging the boys, the Judge remarked that he had reprimanded them so often, he was satisfied that nothing he could say would have any effect. He told them that the Industrial School would soon be ready, and as they were fit candidates for that Institution, they would no doubt find their way there. "And would you like to go there, Peterson," asked the Judge. "No sir," said Peterson. "And you, Kelly?"—"No." "And you, Wagoner?" "Not if I can help myself." "And you, Blundell?" "Not I, sir." "And you, Dunn?" "Yes sir-ee, I would, you bet." The lads were set at liberty.

San Francisco in Luck.—The San Francisco Bulletin says that the last steamer brought news of the drawing of one of the greatest lotteries in Havana, Cuba. The highest prize, $100,000, was drawn by ticket No. 3227, held by Mr. Henry Mails of this city, Chief Clerk in the Recorder's office. Mr. Mails, only a day or two before the arrival of the steamer, disposed of five-eighths of his interest in the ticket, and therefore, he himself holds only three-eighths, or equal to $37,500. The holders of the remaining five eighths are all poor people and laborers, either German or French. Some of them are about crazy at their good fortune. The money Is at Havana, ready for the lucky holders, and it is presumed that the shares here can be sold at a reasonable discount.

Confirmed Depravity.—A woman named Mrs. Egan was arrested in Sansome street, says the S. F. Herald, for being beastly drunk. She had a little babe not more than three months old in her arms, and was completely incapable of taking care either of herself or child. We learn that her husband was quite well to do some two years since, but driven frantic by the misconduct of his wife, his business became neglected, and he lost his property. He was subsequently arrested on a charge of insanity, but his friends succeeded in releasing him from confinement and restoring him to a sane state of mind—Since his recovery he has been in the mines, having succeeded in obtaining a divorce from the woman who had come so nearly being the cause of his destruction.

Sudden Death.—The body of a man, since recognised to be that of George Davis, aged 28, a native of Philadelphia, was found on the wharf, at the corner of Washington and Davis streets, San Francisco, on Sunday morning. Deceased was intemperate, but after a long sober spe l had lately taken to drinking as if insane, and quit work at a factory on Washerwoman's Bay.

The Atlantic Telegraph.—The Golden Gate reports that a short time prior to the sailing of the Moses Taylor from New York, a telegraph dispatch was received from Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, to the effect that the Niagara and Gorgon had arrived at that place, and were successfully engaged in landing the Atlantic Telegraphic cable, and that communication was certain over the cable.

A Fight.—A rencontre took place in Stockton on the 2d instant, between Wm. Biven, editor of the Argus, and a man named Brooks. They were discussing politics, and waxing warm, Brooks gave Biven the lie, upon which Biven cut Brooks in the cheek with a penknife, inflicting a pretty severe wound.

MARIPOSA COUNTY.

The great interest manifested in the election of Senator, prevents us from giving anything more than the vote for District Judge, Senator and Assembly. The following table, exhibiting the vote in all the precincts with the exception of three or four, is nearly correct. Baldwin's majority in this County will not be far short of 1,200.

Homicide in Tuolumne.—A man named George Cabbott, says the Sonora Herald, was shot and killed last Sunday afternoon, near Illinois Ranch, by a person named Oliphant, from Peoria Bar. It appears that Oliphant had dropped a pistol on the road, which was picked up by the man Cabbott, who was intoxicated. When Oliphant returned along the road in search of his pistol, he found it in the man's possession. Cabbott would not of first give it up without a reward; an altercation ensued, in the course of which a shot was fired; by which of the men is not known, as there was no witness. Afterwards Oliphant got the pistol away from Cabbott, and they proceeded together on the road towards Sonora. While riding along together, in conversation, Oliphant turned his horse around, faced Cabbott, and shot him, killing him instantly. Oliphant was arrested and brought to jail, and has been admitted to bail, his bonds being fixed at $4,000.

From Australia.—By the arrival of the bark Carrie Leland, at San Francisco, on Sunday last, news were received to June 26th. The intelligence is as follows: The Colonial Government had arranged a system of loans amounting to £1,500,000, for the purpose of constructing Railways. The bark Glympse arrived on the 16th, but nothing about the movements of the swindling "Anna Cora" and her reputed husband, Weeks. A bill fixing a head tax of £10 on the Chinese, was being discussed in the Legislative Council. A nugget weighing 184 lbs. 9 oz. and 16 pwts., Troy has been found in Ballarat, in drifting, by a company of twenty two. New gold fields were being continually discovered, and at Ballarat water was plenty. The labor market was overstocked. The money market and commercial affairs were stagnant.

☞ One night last week, at the Lyceum, says the Spirit, Miss Jennie Mandeville, after having sung "Unnumbered Kisses," was encored, and treated the audience to the delightful song, "Whistle, and I'll come to thee, my laddie." At the end of each verse, several individuals would respond to the request by a whistle, every one probably imagining that he was the laddie. But it was of no use, Miss Jennie didn't come. At last an enthusiastic old gentleman with a bald head, and of highly respectable appearance, who had been fidgetting about in his seat for several minutes, in a very nervous manner, could stand it no longer, so he jumped up and whirled his hat around his head several times before he recollected where he was. Those who happened to observe him, were considerably amused at his susceptibility.

Remarkable Longevity.—The longevity of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, is remarkable. Out of the whole fifty six, four lived beyond the age of 90—Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, reaching the advanced age of 95 years, 1 month and 24 days. Ten exceeded the age of 80; ten lived beyond 70; fifteen exceeded the age of 60; ten passed their 50th year; six died past 40; and one is supposed to have perished at sea, aged 35.

True Enough.—Editing a newspaper, says a cotemporary, is a good deal like making a fire; everybody supposes he can do it a little better than anybody else. We have seen people doubt their fitness for apple pedling, driving oxen, and counting lath; but in all our experience, we never yet met that individual who did not think he could double the circulation of any paper in two months.

☞ "Homestead Exemption!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington, throwing down the paper; "it comes to a pretty pass, indeed, that men are going to exempt themselves from home just when they please, without any proviso for cold nights!"

LOCAL ITEMS, MINING, &C.

.....The "Cherokee Company," Gentry's Gulch, for some weeks past, have been unable to run their Steam Quartz Mill, for want of water, and have been running a large arrastra. The yield of its first run of 6 days was $1100; its second run of 11 days was $1720; third run of 12 days ending last Friday, was $2200. The superiority of the arrastra for saving gold over other methods in common use, seems to be very apparent in this instance.

.....Sherman, Walling & Co., Gentry's Gulch, cleaned up two arrastras after a 5 weeks' run, on Saturday last, and took from them 182 ounces. They have, during the past week, pounded out in a hand mortar over $1400.

.....Miners upon the Merced are now fairly into their claims, and are on the average doing very well Many claims we might mention are paying from $6 to $8 per day to the hand.

.....The Bear Valley Mill, (Fremont's) running 8 stamps, yields weekly an average of about $2500, as we are reliably informed.

.....A Bridge across the Merced River at Split Rock, is to be built soon. The Bridge at Wyatt's Store, two miles above, and trail from that point to Coulterville, is a great improvement on the old trail, boat, &c.

.....Cyrus DeForris has just received a fresh lot of goods, consisting of Saddles, Saddle Trees of the most approved patterns, Ladies' Saddles, Bridles, Leather, Harnesses, and stock of all kinds, and is prepared to supply all wants in this respect, and do all kinds of work connected with the Saddlery business. His establishment is on the corner of Main and 4th streets, Mariposa.

Wasn't a Candidate.—We are authorized to say that Col. A. Bodo, of Split Rock, was not a candidate for the office of Supervisor; that his name was used by his friends without his knowledge or solicitation.

.....Local Items are emphatically scarce, and it is rather singular too that election week should'nt bring something about worth noticing, in the way of fights, remarkable drunks and consequent doings, accidents, &c. But we must make up something to give continued character to this "sweet little place" and so we'll say—That His Honor, 'Judge Burke's wife, "Katie King's" little bussable baby," is cutting teeth, and isn't any crosser now than afore he thus developed himself, "boss his little soul, the sweet syrup."....The water cart man's horse is dead, and the dust is flying about our streets most intolerably....A Dutchman, the other day, took fright and ran away with his hand cart and sprained his leg by gitting it over the thill, and also broke the "prolapsus uteri" of the cart.....A loose school master the other day, committed a "Faux Par."—What the devil that is, is more than we can make out; but he says he did it....Who hath redness of eyes, a swelled head, and innards not in condition to digest, with many other ills? They who go election cering over to Coulterville and round home by way of Sonora, Columbia and "sufforth," drinking lager and exposed to the inclementuous nature of human events. Bite 'em! How our editorial head aches (hic). Don't know that this will be a very good number of the Gazette, and don't care a ——.....The Jail will be finished before long, and we hope filled from our own resources right away.....Defeated candidates propose, as we understand, to form an encampment on the head of Devil's Gulch, near Burchard's. His chickens are ripe, numerous and handy....Our Stages are carrying passengers to Stockton at present for $4....Some scoundrel put grease into the batteries of Fremont's Quartz Mill, in Bear Valley, the past week, occasioning a loss of at least two-thirds of the gold....The celebrated "Quartz" Johnson, of Bear Valley, left for home on the last Steamer. It is expected that he will espouse a virgin and immediately return.....Seventeen Frenchmen with two bottles of claret, make the night hideous semi-frequently, in a maison near this office, and which we wish was much farther off....Donators of water melons, peaches, &c., to this office, will be puffed....Nobody has come in or gone out of this world since our last issue, that we are aware of, &c., ...This is all.

Horse Statistics.—It is estimated that there are 50,000 horses in the State of Massachusetts, 221,000 in the New England States, and 4,500,000 in the U. States. Ohio stands foremost in the number of horses, New York next, Pennsylvania next, Kentucky next, and Minnesota last of all. Estimating the horses of Massachusetts at $75 per head, their value will be $3,75[illegible],000, and all the horses in the United States at the same rate, would make a value of $337,500,600, or more than three times the whole cotton and woolen manufacturing capital of the Union. The horse interest is a most important one to the wealth and prosperity of the States.

Trouble with the United States in Prospect.—It is stated from Hanover, that notice had been given by the United States Government, that when the present treaty of commerce between the two countries expires, it is not the intention of the United States that it shall be renewed so long as the Hanoverian Government shall persevere in levying at Stade, those dues which the American people consider to be illegal. It is further reported that after that date American vessels will resist the payment of all dues at Stade, and that a U. S. Man-of-War—said to be the Morrimac—will then appear in the Elbe to protect them from the consequence of this resistance.

Gold Production for 1857.—The production of gold in Australia for the past year is set down by the best English authorities at one hundred million of dollars. The production in other countries is estimated as follows: California, $65,000,000; Russia, and Siberia, $20,000,000; other parts of the world, $1,000,000. Total, $100,000,000. We thus have two hundred millions as the gold crop of 1857, and the actual amount is likely to be rather more than the estimated aggregate. At this rate, two thousand millions of gold will be thrown into the monetary circulation of the world during the next ten years.

Snoring.—In the Chicago Journal appears, editorially, an elaborate essay upon the subject of sleep, in which occurs the following passage: "There are two things that sadly mar the beauty of sleep sometimes: leaving the door open to the— stomach, and snoring. We like the Belgic word better, snorken; there is character in it, not retained in the smoother term we use. It is a grating of rusty machinery, a creaking of unlubricated hinges; a family sneezes; a kennel of barkings. Think of repose as full of growls as a tiger jungle! Not every one that closes his eyes knows how to go to sleep.

What the Leviathan is Good For.—In case that attempt to employ the Leviathan in commerce should result disastrously, it is suggested that she would make a good monument. Standing on one end the monster vessel would rise to more than three times the height of Bunker Hill Monument, higher than the projected Washington Monument, higher than any monument in the world, higher than the Pyramids. If nobody dies and nothing occurs, worthy to be commemorated by such a Monument, then she might be used for the first section of a tubular bridge over the Mississippi.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

☞ Gov. Wise does not agree with Senator Hammond. He says: "I say that labor is not the 'mud sill' of society; and I thank God that the old colonial aristocracy of Virginia, which despised mechanical and manual labor, is nearly run out. Thank God that we are beginning to raise miners, mechanics and manufacturers, that will help to raise what is left of that aristocracy up to the middle ground of respectability."

Remains Found.—Some 18 months ago, the Rev. Mr. Brooks perished on Salmon mountain. A few days since, says the Trinity Journal, his bones, watch, a $20 piece and a package of tracts were found near the house on the north side of the mountain, telling the sad story of the good man's death. He had perished almost in sight of shelter.

A Youthful Blackleg.—The Hartford Times says that a child was born in that city last month, whose leg, from about two inches below the hip joint, downwards, including the foot, is entirely black. It might be pertinent to ask whether the rest of the "nig" is not black too!

One Guess.—The Nevada National estimates Baldwin's majority in this State at 6,000—thus: Administration vote, 45,355; Anti-Administration vote, 39,245—Administration majority, 6,110.

....The Nicaragua Route is to be opened again, as will be seen from the following extract from a New York exchange: "The Steamship Washington will succeed the Hermann, and be despatched as soon as the necessary arrangements can be perfected. When these vessels get round in the Pacific, they will run regularly between San Francisco and San Juan del Sur. Both Steamers will stop at that port on their way up. In short, the Nicaragua Transit Route is to be immediately opened by Joe White, and within a few weeks a small steamer will leave this city for Greytown, intended for the lake navigation. Immediately succeeding her departure the route will be declared opened, and a vessel will be put up for passengers. It is understood that Mr. W. has secured the steamers belonging to Samuel L. ....Breaking of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable.—The Agamemnon and Valorous arrived at Queenstown on the 12th inst. The final break in the cable was below the stern of the Agamemnon, after 146 miles had been paid out of that vessel. She then returned to the rendevous in mid ocean, and cruised there for five days in anticipation of meeting the Niagara. On the Agamemnon arriving at Queenstown, it was resolved to coal and start again for a final attempt to lay the cable, there still being on both ships 2,500 miles of the cable left. Before the commencement of the recent attempt, the Agamemnon encountered a furious storm, and rolled so heavily, that great fears were entertained for her safety. She sustained considerable damage. Later accounts state that the fleet left again on the 17th of July, to make another attempt to lay the cable.

EUROPE.

....The English have suffered a number of defeats in India. Full details are given of the defeat of the Maharajah Scindia, England's powerful ally, at Gwalior. Three hundred of his body guard were killed, and his guns all taken, after a splendid charge made by two thousand Sepoy cavalry. He then fled with the bulk of his troops, the others having fraternized with the rebels. Gwalior was, however, subsequently recaptured by Sir Hugh Rose.

....The London Post says the challenge of Americans to back their great chess player, Mr. Paul Morphy, against the well-known English amateur, Mr. Stanton, has been accepted by the latter, and the contest is arranged to commence at the beginning of September.

The Log Cabin Burned.—The "Old Log Cabin," so famous in political history, has gone at last. It was the residence of General Harrison at North Bend, about 15 miles below Cincinnati, when he was nominated for President, and was made famous by a thousand songs in the campaign of 1840. It took fire and was consumed on a Sunday morning. At the time it burned, was occupied by Col. William H. Taylor, who married a daughter of Gen. Harrison, and family, and is stated that such was the rapid progress of the fire, and so late its discovery, that the members of the household barely escaped in thir night clothes.—Of course nothing was saved in the way of furniture or documents, and the probability is, that many valuable papers left by Gen. Harrison, together with articles cherished as relics of the Old Hero, and of the early history of the West, have been destroyed with the building.

☞ A lady in Milwaukie, discussing the garter question, writes: "You will take notice that just above the knee there is no hollow or depression in which a garter could be retained, no projection on which it could make a hold."

Served Right.—Officer Bovee has been sentenced to pay a fine of $300, or be committed to the County Jail for 60 days, for an assault on Ned McGowan with a deadly weapon.

PRENTICIANA.

Prentice gets off the following squibs on the editorial fraternity:

....The Washington Union boasts that our Government "carries its head high." Oh yes, the deeper it is in debt and bankruptcy, the higher it carries its head, and the more it flaunts itself. Perhaps, reader, you have heard of the lady who dismissed an humble servant girl, and, meeting her a few months afterwards, expressed astonishment at the gaudiness and extravagance of her dress. "La, mistress," said the girl, "don't you know I have been ruined since I left you?"

....We are rather surprised to see a Virginia paper, edited by one of the aristocracy, attempting to disparage Cain, the eldest son of Adam and Eve.—If Cain, instead of belonging to the first family in the world, had belonged to one of "the first families in Virginia," his memory would no doubt have been treated with more respect.

....One of the editors of the Ledger advertises, for sale or rent, his "house, containing a stable."—N. A. Tribune

When we delicately hinted the other day that the editor of the New Albany Ledger was an ass, we were not aware that he was provided with such proper accommodations in his own house. But can't he munch his oats quietly and good naturedly without twirling his long ears at us?

....An editor in the interior of Indiana, speaking of a festive occasion, says, that "music shed its inspiring fragrance around." We never before heard of music that had a smell to it. We don't like to intimate that it must have been belched by the editor himself.

....The editor of the Southern Argus says that "the blood-drops of murder are upon the uplifted hands of the Know-Nothings of Louisville." Those blood-drops are "all in his eye." A "drop in the eye" is said to be an old complaint of his.

....A Washington correspondent of the New York Express calls the officers of the Government "Treasury buzzards." A pretty large proportion of them belong to a different species of birds. Many of them is a-rob'in'.

....The Hartford woman, who abandoned her husband and ran away with a brakesman, took arsenic the next day. She had better have swallowed the dose the day before than the day after.

....An Arkansas editor complains that his town for some time past, has been "filled with fishermen and loafers," and wonders "what they are after." After loaves and fishes no doubt.

....The London Times exclaims "how shall Great Britain get rid of the war in Asia?" Why does'nt she carry it into Africa?

....We were much amused with the question of a little negro boy less than four years old—"Please, sir, do we go to Heaven whole?

Rev. W. G. Brownlow.—We find, in the Knoxville Whig, the programme of the discussion which is to come off on the 17th of September, between Mr. Brownlow and Rev. A. Pryne, in Philadelphia. Pryne states the following propositions for discussions:

"Ought American Slavery to be abolished?"

This question to be reversed when the debate is half through and to be stated as follows:

"Ought American Slavery to be perpetuated?"

Among the terms of the discussion proposed by Mr. Brownlow, are the following:

"As I do not go into this fight as the representative of any Church or political organization, South, but upon my own hook, as a Southern man, and the advocate of Southern institutions, I will not be limited to any particular form of discussion, but will claim the right to discuss the whole Slavery question, contrasting the morality and integrity of Northern men, with the morals and integrity of the South.

"I am willing to open the debate, and give you the concluding speech, but I protect it until I announce to you and the audience that I am through.

"I will not suffer any other person to participate in the debate, but I will concede to you the privilege of surrounding yourself with all the anti Slavery leaders at the North and with counseling with them and being prompted by them at intervals; and when we are through, if any one of them shall think you have not done me or the South justice, I will renew the contest with him."

☞ A man named William Simcock, of Washington County, Pa., recently lost his wife in the morning—was arrested by the constable at 11 o'clock—married his second wife before night—and followed the remains of his first wife in company with the second, to the grave the day after.

The Massachusetts Pilgrims.—A monument is to be erected to the Pilgrim Fathers, at Plymouth, to cost from $300,000 to $400,000. It will be built of granite, 153 feet high, 80 feet at the base, with sitting figures from 38 to 70 feet high. It is to be completed in twelve years from August, 1858. Thirty six thousand dollars have been subscribed, principally in Massachusetts. The society for building the monument have purchased all the estates immediately around the veritable rock, and also a site for the monument, embracing ten acres of land, commanding a fine view of the harbor, and the locality of the rock.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

☞ The New Orleans papers bring accounts of a great prize fight which came off in that city between two bruisers, named Daniel Cunningham and John Hooly. The two men were new to the ring, this being their first exhibition, yet, it is said, they went in and came out like old hands. There were one hundred and forty three rounds fought, half minute time, which occupied two hours and fourteen minutes.—For about fifty rounds not more than one blow was given, Cunningham generally managed to get in first and drop. Up to the seventieth round Hooly had the call, and appeared so much refreshed that his seconds dispensed with the usual "picking up and seating," allowing their man to walk to his place and stand. The seconds of Cunningham, however, picked their man up and seated him. Cunningham having rested sufficiently, went at his man, and the ten following rounds showed that he would probably carry the day; though it wavered somewhat up to the hundred and thirtieth round, when Hooly began to weaken, and come up slowly. The last five rounds he failed to touch Cunningham, the latter punishing him severely. The one hundred and forty-third round having been fought, Hooly's second threw up the sponge—the signal of defeat.

Pedestrianism.—On Sunday, the 22nd ult., says the S. F. Spirit of the Times, there was a fine attendance at the Pioneer Course, on the occasion of the match between Henry Derrick and James Kennovan, the Champion Pedestrian of California. The day was fine, and the men were in prime condition. The terms of the match were that each party should drag a sulky, containing a boy, for 5 miles; Derrick, in consideration of his youth, pulling thirty pounds more weight than Kennovan. Both were confident of success, and money changed hands freely upon the result. The contest was a gallant one, but Kennovan was overmatched; Derrick's youth proved too much for his powers of endurance, and at the end of the 5th mile he was some three hundred yards behind.—The following is a summary of the time made:

	1st m.	2d m.	3d m.	4th m.	6th m
Kennovan,	9.15	11.20	10.30	11.30	12.00
Derrick,	9.17	11.27	10.34	11.21	8.51

Anticipated Great Prize Fight.—A correspondent to the Bulletin writing from New York City, says that the contemplated prize fight between Morrissey and Heenan, is beginning to create great interest in sporting circles, now that it is known the parties have come to terms. It has been definitely arranged that the encounter will take place in Canada, on Wednesday, Oct. 28, between the hours of 11 and 2 o'clock, P. M. The latest rules of the London Prize ring will govern the battle. Two hundred and fifty dollars a side were deposited on making the match. A like sum will be put up on the 26th of August, and thereafter five hundred dollars a side every other week, until the sum total has been placed in the hands of the stakeholder. The purse is for $5000, to which each party contributes half. Both champions will go into training immediately. The preliminaries were arranged and the articles of agreement signed.

☞ We find by the London Times of the 9th instant, received by the America, that on the 8th a match race came off at Newmarket between Mr. Ten Brock's mare Mimosa, and Mr. J. Baroson's horse Budsworth, for £200 a side. The mare won the race, which was for one mile, by two lengths.—Previous to the race, the betting stood two to one against the mare. Later on the same day, in the Handicap Plate of £50, the Mimosa came in fourth, eight horses contesting the purse, which was won by Lord Ailesbury's horse Cantine.

Billiard Match.—An interesting game of billiards was recently played at Albany, N. Y., between Michael Phelan and E. Crossman, of Albany. The proposition was to play nine full games of 100 points each, and the man who won five of them was to receive the money; Phelan to discount Crossman's game. Eight games were played, and each had won four. The money depended on the last game, which was won by Crossman.

Prize Fight.—Two men, McNeary and McCool, fought a prize fight in the vicinity of Oakland, Ky. They were attended by seconds, bottle holders, &c., and fought by the rules that govern the ring. On the seventeenth round, McNeary was knocked down, and his opponent striking him after he was down, it was pronounced foul by the umpire. The stakes were, therefore, handed over to McNeary.

Rarey on the Disclosure of his Secret.—It will be re recollected, says the Bulletin, that a week or two ago, we published extracts from a mysterious pamphlet by J. Rarey, the "great American horse-tamer," in which he disclosed his secret. The matter had excited in England much comment, and also, indignation, that the ten guinea subscribers to Rarey's secret should have been so ill used. On the 9th of July, accordingly, Rarey wrote to the London Times, releasing his subscribers from the penalty stated in their bond, if they should reveal their dear bought "secret." As to the pamphlet which had been so extensively circulated in London without his knowledge or consent, was written by him three years ago immediately upon the discovery of his system, and contains but a meagre and imperfect description of it as now practised. It was printed for private circulation in his native tate, Ohio, and he believed it was perfectly unknown in New York and other cities of the United States. It appears that he had never instructed any person, either in America or Europe, without making them sign a bond, under a penalty, not to divulge it, and the only copies of his pamphlet ever before the world, were those given to each of his pupils in America when they received their instructions.

☞ Elections will be held during the month of August in the States of Missouri, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas and North Carolina. In Missouri the election is for members of Congress, of the Legislature, and for County officers; in Arkansas, for members of Congress, and of State Legislature; in Kentucky for a Clerk of Court of Appeals; in Texas, for two State Officers; in North Carolina, for Governor, members of the Legislature, and a member of Congress in the Eighth District, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the transfer of Mr. Clingman to the Senate. Upon the Legislature about to be elected will devolve the duty of electing a Senator to succeed the Hon. David S. Reid, whose term will expire on the 3rd of March next, and also of filling the unexpired term of Judge Biggs, now filled by appointment from the Governor. In Arkansas a Senator is to be elected to succeed Judge Sebastian. In Texas a Senator is also to be chosen, to succeed Judge Henderson, deceased. In all the States mentioned except North Carolina, the election will be held on the 2nd of August; in North Carolina on the 5th. An election also takes place in Kansas on the 2nd of August, upon the acceptance or rejection by the people of Kansas of the land proposition embraced in the bill passed by Congress for its admission into the Union as a State.

☞ Sir Bulwer Lytton's new bill for the organization of the government of the Northwest territories of British America under a Governor and Counsel, is published. The present designation of these territories—New Caledonia—is to be continued, and that they are to embrace all the country bounded to the South by the frontier of the United States, to the East by the water shed between the streams that flow into the Pacific Ocean and those which flow into the Atlantic and icy oceans, to the North by the 55th parallel of latitude, and the West by the Pacific, including Queen Charlotte's Island, and all adjacent islands, except Vancouver's. The last named island may be included at any future time, on an address being presented for the purpose by its local legislature.

Rights of Witnesses.—The English Lords of the Bench decided at Westminster, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law, that a counsellor, in questioning a witness, should address him in ordinary tones, and in language of respect, such as is employed by one gentleman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the private business or moral character of a witness, any further than it is apparent they absolutely affect his reliability, or touch the case in hand; and that a witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting or annoying manner. If forced to answer by the Court he will have his remedy in an action for damages.

....Lady Bulwer has been freed from the madhouse.

Great Idea of a Great Man.—Caleb Cushing, in a recent speech in Boston, rebuking the spirit of sectionalism prevailing in that region, said:

"Jealous of the South! Such would not be my theme, if the demon of sectionalism had so far possessed itself of me. I should not strive to draw the attention of Massachusetts away from the only real danger of a sectional nature which threatens, and to fasten her attention upon an imaginary one. Not by the comparatively small section of the Union lying between Mason and Dixon's line and the Gulf of Mexico is the sceptre of the power in this Union to be held hereafter: but by those vast regions of the West, State after State stretched out like star beyond star in the blue depths of the firmament, far away to the shores of the Pacific.—What is the power of the Old Thirteen, North or South, compared with that of the mighty West?—There is the seat of empire, and there is the hand of imperial power. Tell me not of the perils of the slave power and the encroachments of the South.—Massachusetts and South Carolina will together be as clay in the fingers of the potter, when the great West shall stretch forth its arm of power, as ere long it will, to command the destiny of the Union."

A Well Mixed Race.—There is now in Rochester, New York, a man aged one hundred and six years, whose ancestry, together with his own progeny, will exhibit one of the strangest mixture of races ever heard of. His name is John Shenandoah O'Brien, and he was born in Boston, 1752. His father was an Irishman, and his mother an Indian, of the Oneida tribe. When twelve years old he was sent to France and there educated as a physician. He returned to America and served in the Revolutionary war; afterward he went back to France, and there married the daughter of the Emperor of Morocco, by whom he had eight children; with her he lived in the United States for some time. He then married an American woman, descended from the Teutonic line, and after her death married a negress, who was fifty years younger than himself, and by whom he had four children. In his children are united the blood of the Celts, the Teutons, the African, and the North American Indian.

The Appropriations.—By an official report of the appropriations of last Congressional session they amount to $84,300,000. The postal service alone is $17,000,000, and the estimated receipts only $12,000,000 showing that the maintenance of steamships and other mail service is a direct tax upon the treasury of five millions of dollars. Deducting these receipts from the total appropriations leaves $72,000,000 as the expenditures of the year. The close of the "Mormon War" will, however, reduce the necessity of using all the appropriations for that branch of the service, and probably there are other departments in which there may be a reduction. Experience generally is, however, that all appropriated is used, except in such extraordinary cases as the Utah expedition.

☞ A letter from Mr. Forsythe, American minister at Mexico, speaking of the recent earthquake in Mexico, says: "It appears to have been more severe on the Pacific than on the Atlantic slope, as we hear of several villages totally destroyed in that region. If Mexico had been built in the fragile style of an American city, it would now be a mass of ruins.—With all its massive walls, it has had a narrow escape. The earthquake was unaccompanied by any noise except the creaking of beams, and stone walls, and furious banging of open doors and windows. The heavy masonry of Chapultepec acqueduct was broken, wasting the water in more than a hundred places within a space of a mile and a half. No living person remembers a movement of equal violence and duration. Houses which have stood a hundred years have opened their seams to the fury of this one."

The Agamemnon and Niagara.—Whilst the Niagara was lying in an English port, helping to take in the telegraphic cable, the English newspapers constantly instituted comparisons between her and the British ship of the line, Agamemnon, exalting the latter to the skies, and intimating that the former might possibly be carried to the bottom by the weight of the telegraphic wires. The two vessels have since been put to the test of a tremendous storm on the Atlantic, and whilst the Agamemnon was reduced to such a condition that her commander gave her up at one time for lost, the Niagara rode the waters as buoyant as a cork, and scarcely felt the gale which nearly foundered her companion. A glorious triumph for the genius of Stears and for American ship-builders, and a conclusive reply to the land lubbers of the cockney press.

Love sees not the Deepening Furrows of Time.—An esteemed friend says in a letter: "My wife, to me, seems younger and more beautiful every day." Our friend's wife, says the Trinity Journal, is still young and beautiful, but we suppose that thirty years hence he will have seen no silvering hair, no sinking beauty in the cheek, no gradual going out of light in the dark eyes that now flash in the pride of womanhood. It was just so with old Mr. John Anderson: it has been so with thousands who have journeyed, hand in hand, down to where they could hear the waves of eternity wailing along the shore. Mighty kind and good is old Father Time; he has seen so much of death and suffering that his heart has grown tenderer, and he brings a pair of huge magnifying spectacles through which old lovers can still see the youth bloom on the cheek, and an ear trumpet through which the piping voice of age can distinctly speak words of endearment which can be heard away down in the catacombs of the heart, where young love is embalmed.

☞ Dr. L. J. Czapkay.—We would direct the especial attention of Invalids to the perusal of Dr. L. J. Czapkay's advertisement, to be found in another column of this paper, to place the services of a learned and experienced Physician within their reach. So much ill has been inflicted upon the human family from the pernicious and ignorant practices of impirics, that it seems as if we were fulfilling a bounden duty to make known where jucicious relief can be obtained. To those unfortunate enough to suffer from the effects of sexual or private diseases, or other ill treatment, we cheerfully commend Dr. L. J. Czapkay as a man of rare scientific and medical acquirements. Possessing all the requirements, from long experience and acknowledged skill, for the successful practice of his profession. Having made sexual complaints his especial study, like the celebrated Ricord of Paris, he is enabled to guarantee a speedy and permanent cure in all cases of private or chronic diseases, whether the effect of contagion, self-abuse, or loss of virility, and in order that patients at a distance may avail themselves of his advice, free consultation by letter is open to them. The knowledge we have of the numerous cures he has effected, some of which were of long standing, leads us to place much faith in Dr. C's efficacy, and commend him to the confidence of those in ill health. d9

A short distance from this camping ground, is situated the MAMMOTH TREE GROVE, containing Over Five Hundred Trees, equalling or exceeding in size and beauty any yet discovered in California.

A GOOD BRIDGE here crosses the River, from whence to the Valley the distance is nineteen miles, over a GOOD MOUNTAIN TRAIL.

When the traveler reaches the descending point to the Valley, the view of "Inspiration Point" which very few persons have ever witnessed, would amply repay the visitor for the trip.

The Scenery in the Valley is beyond description, abounding in Magnificent Water Falls and precipitous heights, towering from 2,000 to 4,000 feet above the bed of the Valley.

As a pleasant summer excursion, the trip to the Yo Semite cannot be excelled—while the route by the Mariposa Trail, which is superior to that of the Coulterville route, as every one can testify who have traveled both Trails, offers attractions and inducements superior to any other.

Visitors from San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton, and other parts of this State, who intend visiting the Valley by the Mariposa Route, will please direct a line the undersigned, who will have horses and a guide in readiness to conduct them to the Valley without any unnecessary delay.

Horses will be furnished at half the usual price heretofore charged.

SICK CALIFORNIANS

An honest Appeal to all with bad or failing Health!

Are you languid, inanimate, restless. Appetite poor, digestion bad, and Pains in the Limbs, Body, Back and Head? Reader, much of this is caused from COLD caught unwittingly, or, in seven cases out of ten, SLUGGISHNESS OF THE LIVER and BLOOD, and WANT OF NATURAL PERSPIRATION, in desertion in the use of Food and Drink, or from a dryness in the atmosphere—which is a very unhealthy part of this climate—many of the Awful, Violent and Sudden Deaths that occur here must be attributed to this. Now, reader, I have made this my study for many years, and I do assure you that my DR. WEBBER'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL will cure these causes—it will insure animation of the LIVER, BLOOD, and BRAINS; it strengthens the NERVES, and gives to the sufferer a LIGHTNESS OF SPIRITS, a MENTAL and BODILY FEELING OF STRENGTH, that is delightful. The many respectable persons who have been benefited by, and certified to its extraordinary qualities in curing any of the following diseases, must satisfy all but the self-wise and ignorant skeptic—Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Loss of Muscular or Bodily Strength and Mental Energy; Fever, Ague, or Chills; Rheumatic, Neuralgic or other Pains; Depletion and Weakness of the Natural Functions, Debility from Disease, Dissipation, too much Doctoring, Debauchery, and other causes; in case of excitement from constant Intemperance, and where Delerium Tremens has occurred, I have seen it change the sufferer in half an hour from the most horrible state to calmness and placidity. It can, indeed, be conscientiously recommended to all suffering, and the proprietor regrets deeply that it is necessary thus to advertise it, in order that its merits may be known.

Constitutional Weakness.

Debility from Disease, Climate, Dissipation or Debauchery—Strength, vivacity and vigor to the limbs, body and mind, is given by Dr. Jacob Webber's Invigorating Cordial—it sends an electric thrill of life through the worn-out body, weak limbs and broken-down constitution; gives an appetite, removes Dyspepsia, calms irritability, causes quiet sleep, and is indeed the finest tonic, Nervine, and Sanguifier ever made. It is purely a vegetable compound, and can be used by the most delicate.

Cure for Intemperance.

The Appetite for Liquor Destroyed.—One of the beautiful properties possessed by Dr. Webber's Invigorating Cordial, is that it removes all longing or taste for liquor. Many inebriates have found that after it has renewed and strengthened them, quieted their nerves, it has caused aversion to spirits. I have seen it cure some of the most frightful cases, where delerium tremens has actually occurred.

THE VERY BEST REMEDY

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD,

SCROFULA,	STUBBORN ULCERS,

AND AS A

GENERAL TONIC FOR THE SYSTEM,

IT IS UNRIVALLED.

It has long been a most important desideratum in the practice of medicine, to obtain a remedy similar to this, and accordingly we find it resorted to almost universally in cases of Scrofula, Liver Diseases, Salt Rheum, General Prostration of the Vital Powers, and all those tormenting diseases of the skin so trying to the patience and injurious to the health. Although possessed of powerful healing properties, it is entirely harmless, and will not injure the most DELICATE CONSTITUTION.

When in perfect health, no effect is produced by its use, except an increase of appetite; but when disease is seated in the frame, and carrying fast its victim along the path of life, then its mysterious influence is felt and seen; it enkindles new life and vigor, and brings health and strength to the suffering and diseased.

SCROFULOUS SORE EYES.

The following important testimony is from South Kingston, R. I. In this case the Sarsaparilla was recommended by the family Physician.

MESSRS. SANDS:—Gentlemen,—My little daughter, when one year old, was attacked with a scrofulous humor on her face, which soon after extended into her eyes, causing almost total blindness in one of them, and disfiguring her whole face. I employed two physicians to attend her, who exhausted their utmost skill to give her relief, but it all proved useless, and finally one of them remarked to me that he had known of some striking cures effected by Sands' Sarsaparilla, and advised me to try it. I obtained one bottle, which she commenced using, and before it was all used up it had effected an entire cure. It is now over four years since she was cured, and there has been no reappearance of the disease, and we are satisfied that it is a perfect cure.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE ROBINSON.

Important to All Concerned!

Furniture and Bedding

MANUFACTORY & STORE.

I WISH TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC TO THE FOLLOWING:

Having been taught by experience and loss, that it will be more prudent to work at CHEAPER rates, and get paid for my work, than to charge higher prices and thus make honest customers pay for those that don't. I have come to the conclusion that in future I SHALL DO NO MORE WORK ON A CREDIT. No exception will be made to this rule; friends as well as strangers are expected to pay cash or its equivalent on delivery.

☞On the other hand, I am willing to do the same when purchasing.

Those that are indebted to me now, will assist me considerably in paying my old debts, by settling theirs.

In addition to the above, I would state that I am able and prepared to do any kind of work that can be made of wood, from the roughest Carpenter's work to the most Artificial work, including TURNING, CARVING, PAINTING, PAPER HANGING and GLAZING.

A limited assortment of Furniture constantly kept on hand, which will be sold hereafter at reduced prices.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

GRAND MEDICAL & SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

Established in 1854, for the Permanent Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

Dr. L. J. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his institute for the cure of all forms of Private Diseases—such as syphilis gonorrhœa, nocturnal emissions, and all the consequences of self-abuse. In the first stages of syphilitic or gonorhœal diseases, he guarantees a cure in a few days, without inconvenience to the patient or hindrance to his business. When a patient, by neglect or improper treatment, has developed the symptoms of secondary syphilis, such as bubœs, or painful swellings of the groins, or ulcers in the throat or nose, which if not checked, destroy the soft parts and cause the bones to mortify, separate and come away, leaving the sufferer heideous to behold; or when blotches and pimples break out upon the skin, or when he has painful swellings upon the bones, or when his constitution is injured so as to predispose to consumption or constitutional diseases the Doctor guarantees a cure or asks no compensation.

In Rheumatism, chronic or acute, in Dysentery or Diarrhœa, he has safe and effectual remedies. For the treatment of the consequences of self abuse, such as nocturnal emissions, nervousness, timidity, headache, pains in the back and limbs, with general weakness, loss of appetite, loss of memory, injury to the sight, restlessness, confusion of ideas, dislike for society, and a feeling of weariness of life, with the nervous system so excitedle that slight noises shock or startle the patient, making his existence miserable. For the above maladies the Doctor will guarantees a cure or ask no compensation. He can be consulted free of charge, and invites all to call, as it will cost them nothing, and may be much to their advantage.

A Tribute to Merited Worth.

☞A TESTIMONIAL RICHLY MERITED.—The ingratitude of man to his fellow man is so often met with in life, that testimonials, prompted by the finer feelings of the heart, are oasis in the life of those who sacrifice their best days in philanthropic devotion to the alleviation of the ills of frail mortality. Empiricism floods the columns of our press with fraudulent and fictitious letters; singing peans to the worth of their own egotistical charlatanism. Below we append a letter from a worthy man, who, after a brief period since, expected destined to "shuffle off this mortal coil;" who looked forward to his dissolution with that pleasure which only those weighed down by the heavy hand of disease can. Contrary to hope, the ability of a skillful physician has restored him to his former health. Relieved from his terrible situation, and impelled by gratitude, he makes known his case and remedial agent, and his statement is authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command its publicity; and it is given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praises of a physician of whom scores of like cases can be cited:

CERTIFICATE

The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of unconfessable passion to youth, destroyed in body and mind; unable to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the daily avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease of trifling importance—but abst after a few weeks, and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror, that instead of relief, the symptoms of a more fatal alarming in their nature, and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicines would be of little consequence. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy; and as a last resort and with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by this result, I resolved to put myself immediately under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, my ideas collected; the constant pain in my back and groins; the weakness of my limbs; the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement; the misanthropy and evil forebodings; the self distrust and want of confidence in others; the incapability to study, and want of resolution. The nightly exertions, and other unfavorable dreams that night followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared; and in fact, in two months after having consulted the Doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand.

With a view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured, by my own experience, that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected. B. F. FILLMORE.

State of California, County of San Francisco. Subscribed and sworn before me, this 17th day of April, 1856. (Signed) JOHN MIDDLETON, [L. S.]

Notary Public.

A CARD.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a high commendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly and from some cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the failures which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (as I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet despised the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render me assistance or shelter me from danger as enemies who sought to prolong the misery of my existence. While in this state, and having previous to my affliction, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him my circumstances, and my inability to reward him for all his services, regardless of which, however, he at once undertook the case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and to all afflicted, to make the case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

[L. S.] Notary Public.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

A GREAT BLESSING TO MANKIND!—Innocent but potent! Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum, (self-disinfecting agent,) a sure preventive against gonorrheal and syphilitic diseases, and an unsurpassed remedy for venereal sores, scrofulous gangrenes and cancerous ulcers, fœtid discharges from the vagina, uterus and urethra, and all cutaneous eruptions and diseases. As innoculation is a preventive against small-pox, so is Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Prophilacticum a preventive against syphilitic and gonorrhœal diseases. Although harmless in itself, it possesses the power of chemically destroying the syphilitic virus, and thereby saving thousands from being infected by the most loathsome of all diseases. Let no young man who appreciates health be without Dr. Czapkay's Prophilacticum. It is in very convenient packages, and will be found convenient to use, being used as a soap. Price $5. For sale at Dr. Czapkay's Private Medical and Surgical Institute, Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

All orders must be addressed to L. J. Czapkay, M. D., San Francisco, California.

J. Czapkay. His method of curing diseases is new, (unknown to others,) and hence the great success. All consultations, (by letter or otherwise) free. Address L. J. Czapkay, M.
